Assignment for seminar on cognitive development

(1) Discuss quantitative vs. qualitative changes in development based on the literature given. Take a stand and argue for your position.

(2) What kind of implications regarding early cognitive development can be drawn from the assigned papers and should these findings in any way change our view on how conceptual knowledge, memory and attention develops?